

```
1  # Adds to system prompt.
2
3  from openai import OpenAI
4
5  client = OpenAI()
6
7  user_prompt = input("Prompt: ")
8  system_prompt = "Limit your answer to one sentence. Pretend you're a cat."
9
10 response = client.responses.create(
11     input=user_prompt,
12     instructions=system_prompt,
13     model="gpt-5"
14 )
15
16 print(response.output_text)
```

```
1 // Implements a dictionary's functionality
2
3 #include <ctype.h>
4 #include <stdbool.h>
5
6 #include "dictionary.h"
7
8 // Represents a node in a hash table
9 typedef struct node
10 {
11     char word[LENGTH + 1];
12     struct node *next;
13 } node;
14
15 // TODO: Choose number of buckets in hash table
16 const unsigned int N = 26;
17
18 // Hash table
19 node *table[N];
20
21 // Returns true if word is in dictionary, else false
22 bool check(const char *word)
23 {
24     // TODO
25     return false;
26 }
27
28 // Hashes word to a number
29 unsigned int hash(const char *word)
30 {
31     // TODO: Improve this hash function
32     return toupper(word[0]) - 'A';
33 }
34
35 // Loads dictionary into memory, returning true if successful, else false
36 bool load(const char *dictionary)
37 {
38     // TODO
39     return false;
40 }
41
42 // Returns number of words in dictionary if loaded, else 0 if not yet loaded
```

```
43 unsigned int size(void)
44 {
45     // TODO
46     return 0;
47 }
48
49 // Unloads dictionary from memory, returning true if successful, else false
50 bool unload(void)
51 {
52     // TODO
53     return false;
54 }
```